We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected ment of disease. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have seen them. The reputation of patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. Many of those medicines came out of the regular practice, and were prepared and originally prescribed by the skillful physician. * * * You see of them, we believe are humbugs and frauds in the consciousness or the intent of their makers. * * * The people, however, are the judges, both of doctors and of medicines; so that, those medicines are not all bad, and of them some are used for good; for anything, that fact is established. —Scrivener's Monthly.

LIVER

A FACT—Facts are established by testimony. The weight of the testimony is

HAVE you been suffering from Liver Cure, a medicine of merit.
We, the undersigned, have used Dow's
Liver Cure ourselves, and in our families, for many of the diseases for which it is recommended, and we pronounce it the most reliable and most effective remedy introduced in this country, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers.

Luckily the accident was no more serious.

—A cute little story is told of a little third ward girl, of very tender years. She was at the dinner table yesterday, the family having green corn on the table, one ear of which was black. The father of the little girl, who always ap- preciates a good joke, thought he would astonish his offspring, and turning to her, and calling her attention to the col- ored ear of corn, gravely inquired, "what is the matter with this corn?" The in- nocent little one looked up and respond- ed—"I don't know, Papa, but I does it was a red ear, so I seen the red hairs on it when Bridget undressed it." She took the corn.

The Galbraith Brothers Closes His Show.

The Galbraith Brothers, of this city, are meeting with excellent success in capturing prizes for the show of Clydes- dale stock. At the Minneapolis fair just closed, they captured their first prizes and two second. The St. Paul Pioneer-Press speaks of their exhibit in the following complimentary terms: "One of the most important exhibits at the fair is the now celebrated stud of Clydes horses of Galbraith Bros. of Janesville, Wis. The brothers are the sons of Mr. Gal- braith, the famous Clyde horse breeder of Scotland, who was one of the pioneers in the breeding of this stock in that country. The stud which they have on exhibition is all imported, and takes the highest rank throughout the country. In the opinion of breeders, carrying on premiums like a tidal wave. The invalu- able Glenoe, a description of which ap- peared some time since, was again vic- torious yesterday, and won the blue rib- bon as the best stallion over four years old. He took the first premium at the Iowa state fair last year, and at Chicago two years ago. And well he might for he combines all the best qualities of the Clydes. The Galbraith Bros. also took first premium on the handsome dapple bay three-year-old stallion, Sweet Briar. The Lintie, a beautiful two-year-old filly, won a blue ribbon over its competitors. Lord Salisbury took second prize as the best horse for general purposes. Bonito Jessie walked away with a red ribbon, as being the second-best yearling filly being. They have sixteen head on the ground, which is only a small portion of their stud."

The above show of horses by the Messrs. Galbraith, held at Minneapolis this morning, for the Minnesota state fair at Owatonna.

A low condition of health is common with many who allow themselves to wor- ry. Mental anguish causes bodily suf- ferings. Anxiety and care has broken down many constitutions. A train of disorders usually follow mental distress. Heart affections, nervousness, sleepless- ness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney troubles, etc., are among the list. A sure remedy for relieving all mental and phys- ical distress is Brown's Iron Bitters. It at once strengthens every part of the body making work a pleasure and care un- known.

Mr. Samuel Lindow, Franklin, street says: "Brown's Iron Bitters has cured me of a very severe attack of neuralgia."

Dr. J. H. Myers, Fairfield, Iowa, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best iron preparation I have ever known in my 30 years of practice."

Perfect Success.

Those two words have a vast meaning when comprehended. A perfect success can be truthfully applied to Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic, which cures dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness, all diseases of the kidneys, liver and blad- der. It is a perfect tonic and blood pur- fier; it keeps the skin clear and bright, drives away pimples and makes the gen- eral health excellent. Price 50 cents, of Stearns & Baker.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 64 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 80 degrees above zero. Cloudy with a south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 62 and 65 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1, 1 a. m.—The fol- lowing are the indications for to-day:

True, you are in a miserable condition. You are weak, pale and nervous. You cannot sleep at night, nor enjoy your waking hours. Get a bottle of Dr. Cassell's Food Bitters. They will restore you to health and peace of mind.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the post- office. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and a doubt- fully have the largest stock in the city.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 1.—Patrick Kelly, a well known hunter and fisherman in the lakes near Charleston, was waylaid and his skull broken by parties from Charleston. It is said he cannot live.

Physicians prescribe GOLDEN'S LIGHT BERE Tonic for the weak, worn, and dyspep- tic. Take no other.

HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—Dandelion's Soda and Salutaris have made their way into nearly every household in the land; and wherever the mistress prefers good ma- terials to bad, they keep company. They are the best in the market.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your sleep by a sick child's crying and crying with pain? Give your child a bottle of Dr. Cassell's Food Bitters. They will restore you to health and peace of mind.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the post- office. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and a doubt- fully have the largest stock in the city.

THE CIRCUS OF THE FUTURE.

"That," said Samuel Watson, show- man, "interests me much more than the exhibitions of the days and years gone by. By think of its possibilities! We can't do things on the scale of the Ro- man. The coming showman will com- sider our big shows too big. Even now people look with surprise at the man who honestly advertises that he can seat 15,000 people under his canvas. But what a little hand full that is compared with the throngs who were accommo- dated at the existing ruins show they could be, at Rome and Athens and Alexandria. In Jerusalem it may in- terest some people to know, there are the ruins of a great circus building. But none of these were to be compared to Rome's circus maximus, which had altars and chapels, images and statues of the deities. In it was an iron altar, as high as one man upon another, and also a ditch to protect the people from possible injury from the performers. Now, what this suggests to me is that the circus of the present will disappear, the circus of half a century ago nobody wants. Theatrons of twenty centuries ago we cannot have. What we shall have is a combination. The magnifi- cent and permanence of structures of the Roman empire, the simplicity and singleness, so to speak of the more recent days, but no three-ring-displays. They sound well when you read an ad- vertisement, but few people can look in two directions at once. They are the best we have, but by and by we shall have better."
